Meandering Along the Main Stem

By WASH FAYETTE

Early in the morning for some time, I have noticed a Yellowhammer or Flicker, boring its long sharp beak into little ant hills along the cement sidewalk, and apparently virtually emptying them of their small occupants.

It is not generally known but the Yellowhammer is probably the greatest ant eater in existence—outside of the animal which is known by the name of Ant Eater, and which I believe is native to Africa.

Scientists have found as many as 5,000 small ants in the crop of a single Yellowhammer, and if that isn't devouring the little insects in numbers, then I don't know my figures.

Have you noticed the number of boys ranging down to 12 years of age who are "filling the gap" and helping with the general work as result of the labor shortage due to the war?

I have run across quite a number of these youngsters who roll up their sleeves and plunge into the work with a zest that might put some of their elders to shame. I noticed one boy in particular who was barefooted, bareheaded, freckle-faced but radiating self-confidence and an enthusiasm in his work that gave assurance that he was doing his part with a will and was really helping to win the war.

It is a good sign to see the boys take hold of work that must be done, and to see the energy they devote to doing the job well.

And this applies to the girls as well, although not so many of the young girls work in public, they are realizing the importance of doing their bit at home.

You can always bank on Young America to do their part well.

I like those white "STOP" signs the city crew is painting on the streets at the intersection of main thoroughfares.

As a matter of fact the orange lettering previously used does not show clearly after night, and I am sure the white letters will be more effective both in the daytime and at night.

I understand that when the present supply of orange paint is exhausted, that white striping for parking, and other traffic lines in white will be the rule here.

If you don't believe that white is much easier to see at night than yellow, try following the central line in yellow during a heavy fog—it is hardly visible although the white stands out clearly in the heaviest fog.

RUBBER COMMITTEE GATHERS IN PARK

Only Thing Secret About It Is Low-toned Conversation

By IRVING PERLMETER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(P)—President Roosevelt's special committee to survey the nation's rubber situation went to work today on two open-air park benches. Washingtonians strolling through Lafayette Square, across the street from the White House, discovered the committee, which could hardly be distinguished from nearby persons feeding pigeons.

The six-foot frame of Chairman Bernard Baruch, however, was the give away. With him were Dr. Karl Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard University, the other two members of the committee, and one or two assorted rubber experts.

All were hatless and in shirt, sleeves except the chairman, who wore a summer jacket and a straw hat.

The only thing secret about the conference was that the conversation was in low tones.

BOMBAY, Aug. 7.—(P)—The working committee of the All-India Congress party voted today to appeal to President Roosevelt, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and Ivan Maitsky, Russian ambassador to Britain, to support its demands that Great Britain grant India immediate independence.

Maulana Abdul Kazan Azad, president of the Congress, was authorized to dispatch the appeals as soon as the Congress Committee passes upon a resolution calling for a mass campaign of passive resistance to continued British rule.

Endorsement of the resolution, backed by Mohandas K. Gandhi, was regarded as a foregone conclusion.

Gandhi himself sent a message to the Chinese today to "let China know that this struggle is as much for her defense as it is for India's liberation." He declared that India's "ability to give effective assistance" is dependent on her freedom.

In an incongruous setting under a canvas tent's big top, the 360 militant committeemen assembled to begin deliberations for throwing into motion what may become India's grimmest bid for independence.

They had the scrawny little leader's own word again last night, on the eve of the conference, that the time for non-violent action is now and that time would show what strength the Congress could marshal from his masses of disciples.

There was not the slightest hint from Gandhi's headquarters of any wavering. His latest statement seemed merely to reiterate that Britain must yield now—not, as she has proposed, wait to grant independence after the war—or see the Congress party act.

Neither was there any doubt that the committee would adopt the resolution sent to it from the party's smaller working committee calling for a vast movement

Nazi Industries Are Blasted

LONDON, Aug. 7.—(P)—A strong force of RAF bombers last night attacked the big German industrial center of Duisburg, target of repeated raids in July and other points in the Ruhr Valley, the Air Ministry announced today.

Nazi airdromes in the low countries also were attacked by British raiders, six of which failed to return from their night missions, a communiqué said.

The size of the strong force was not disclosed officially but a British source said that in the days before the British hurled more than 1,000 bombers against Germany in a single night, last night's total would have been considered "a whopper".

Duisburg, an important communications center at the junction of the Ruhr and Rhine Rivers as well as the site of many vital war industries, was last bombed by the RAF on the night of July 25—the fourth attack on the city in six nights.

Last night's foray was the third successive night assault upon the Ruhr region.

German raiders also were busy over Britain again during the night, dropping high explosives and incendiaries at scattered points in East Anglia and on the east coast of Scotland.

The raids were not on a heavy scale, however, and although there were some casualties first reports indicated the number was not large.

The Air Ministry issued a summary today of aerial operations in all theaters for July which placed British losses at 432 planes and credited the RAF with destroying 420 Axis aircraft.

BIG CORN CROP IS ANTICIPATED FOR THIS YEAR

Vast Quantities Are Needed
To Meet Wartime Demands;
Weather Is Favorable

By FRANKLIN MULLIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—(P)—Rich green leaves, long waving tassels and heavy silken shoots averaging two to the stalk in many fields today promised another record, or near record, yield of corn as the nation's vital war crop progressed through the ear forming stage.

High yielding hybrid seed, introduced on a large scale to American farmers only a few years ago, accounts for a greater proportion of the acreage than ever before, grain experts here reported.

This means, they said, that the crop, progressing so far under about as favorable conditions as are experienced in best seasons, has an excellent chance to equal or better last year's near record yield. In some sections of the belt, such as Iowa, the nation's biggest corn producer, the yield may exceed that of 1941.

According to latest analyses the crop's condition for the nation as a whole is only slightly below that of a year ago, when the national yield turned out to be 31 bushels per acre, best in several years and comparing with an average of only 23.5 bushels in 1930-39. On July 1 the official estimate of yield was 29.4 bushels, compared with 29.7 on the same date last season.

Crop experts pointed out that should improvement occur between now and harvest as it did last year, which is possible because of the big hybrid acreage and excellent moisture situation, a crop of more than 2,700,000,000 bushels is likely, compared with 2,672,000,000 last year. This would be the largest crop since 1925 with the exception of the 2,931,000,000 harvest of 1932.

Recent private trade estimates have been around the 2,700,000,000 figure, although a continuation of favorable weather and other crop conditions is necessary to make this promise come true. Experts do not expect corn borer infestation in some sections of the belt, mostly in the Ohio valley, to take a serious toll this year, although, unless checked, this pest could endanger the 1943 crop.

Corn, chief food of livestock, must be raised in vast quantities this year to meet wartime demand. Even though a big crop in sight experts said feeding and industrial requirements may exceed the harvest, thus necessitating further drawing upon carry-over surplus.

QUEEN IS A GUEST AT PRESS MEETING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(P)—Queen Wilhelmina, a guest at President Roosevelt's press conference, said today the contribution of press and radio to the efforts of the war leaders was of "immense value" in helping to lead mankind "toward a brighter tomorrow."

The queen of the Netherlands engaged in no question-and-answer exchange with reporters, but read a statement after Mr. Roosevelt had introduced the members of his press conference to her in a group,

HERE'S LEG ART THAT'S REALLY LEG ART

These Chicago school girls had the idea that if it was patriotic to save silk and rayon by painting their legs with imitation stockings it would be twice as patriotic to paint them with waving flags, slogans and—maybe a few personal ideas. The results are pictured here and they should inspire any service man to new deeds of valor.

Fleet of Huge Cargo Planes Is Given Approval By WBP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(P)—

Chairman Donald M. Nelson said today the WBP had approved construction by Henry J. Kaiser, west coast shipbuilder, of 500 huge "Mars"-type flying boats, with an initial order for 100 to be placed by the navy shortly.

The other 400 seventy-ton cargo carrying planes will be built, Nelson said, if the initial program is accomplished successfully in Kaiser's Pacific coast shipbuilding plants.

"This is all contingent upon the construction not interfering with out combat plane program," Nelson added.

Asked whether WBP believed it could be done without hampering war plane production he replied:

"I have hopes—at least we can try."

Nelson said Kaiser, now in Washington, would go to the coast and then "come back and tell us what materials and facilities he needs, when he can get started, and where he will build them."

Other WBP officials said they believed Kaiser planned to construct the big sky freighters at Richmond, Calif., on San Francisco Bay.

Nelson said no other builder would participate in the program under present plans.

Here's What War Costs; Congress Given Figures

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(P)—

A compilation of Congress' fiscal activity showed today that the staggering sum of $205,514,657,286 had been appropriated or authorized between June 1, 1940, to June 30, 1943, for expenditure to provide the nation's defense and war needs.

The figures, including a breakdown of both war-necessitated and "normal" appropriations voted this year, were prepared by the Bureau of the Budget and were placed in the Congressional Record by Senator Glass (D., Va.) and Rep. Cannon (D., Mo.), chairman of the House and Senate Appropriations committee.

Of the $139,770,114,641 appropriated during this session, Cannon pointed out that approximately $133,370,000,000 was earmarked for war purposes while approximately $6,400,000,000 was tagged for ordinary costs of government.

Glass, in his analysis of the figures, declared that Congress had reduced appropriations for the normal activities of government by $1,667,005,150.89 below last year's figures, and made increases in that category of $579,872,154, leaving a net cut of $1,087,122,996.71.

In citing the three-year $205,514,657,286 total on the books for war expenditures, Cannon emphasized that the figure did not represent actual expenditures.

"Appropriations and authorizations," he said, "Need to be made far in advance in order that programs of orders for material, weapons, naval vessels, merchant ships and all other war-effort requirements may be integrated with the recruitment and training of manpower, and the long range planning and conduct of the war in the various theaters of action where that war may be fought."

He said that the expenditure

ALREADY IN SERVICE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—(P)—Gigantic cargo planes, capable of mass transport of troops across the Atlantic out of reach of lurking submarines, are not a vision of the future—they are an actuality, in quantity production.

And even greater ships, with a capacity of 400 soldiers, able to span the Atlantic in 10 to 12 hours have passed the speculative stage to the point where the industry could begin their construction.

Tom M. Girdler, chairman of the board of Consolidated Aircraft Corp. and Maj. Reuben H. Fleet, the company's founder and present adviser, made these statements last night as they told the nation, in separate radio talks, that the industry is prepared to tackle the heavy transport problem.

These quarters also cited repeated warnings from Allied sources recently that Japan, with upwards of half a million troops reported massed along the Russian Siberian frontier, planned to attack Russia soon in the Far East.

On the Soviet fighting front, conflicting versions of the battle came from Moscow and Berlin.

The Germans reported the capture of Armavir, on the Baku rail line, 160 miles south of Rostov; Yeisk, on the Sea of Azov, 70 miles southwest of Rostov; and Timashevskaya, 130 miles southwest of Rostov. Capture of Armavir would place the Germans within 65 miles of the Maikop oil fields, which produce seven percent of

Meanwhile, Master Minds of

Important Conference

By ROGER D. GREENE

(By The Associated Press)

Adolf Hitler's blood-for-oil drive into the Caucasus was slowed in two key sectors today, Russian accounts said, as the Red armies beat off repeated mass tank assaults and mopped up fresh swarms of Nazi paratroopers and plane-transported troops behind the Soviet lines.

An entirely different version came from German field headquarters which declared that Gen. Fedor Von Bock's armies had captured three strategic towns and advanced to a depth of 160 miles on the road to the Caucasus oil treasures.

A bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters asserted that Nazi troops swarming across the Kuban River had advanced to within 30 miles of the Maikop oil fields. The Maikop wells are important but far less vital than the huge Baku fields which lie across the towering Caucasus mountains hundreds of miles to the south-east.

The Nazi communiqué also asserted that Axis columns were approaching Krasnodar, 150 miles southwest of Rostov, on the rail line to the Black Sea.

Arrival of Soviet reinforcements in the critical struggle below the Don River was acknowledged by the German command, which said the Russians were counter-attacking north of the Sal River—apparently in the Kotelnikovsk sector, 95 miles south of Stalingrad.

The high command emphasized the role of Nazi dive-bombers in helping German troops "in their heavy defense" against Soviet "relief attacks" in the Rzhhev sector, northeast of Moscow, and conceded that the Red armies were striking back in the big bend of the Don River before Stalingrad.

As the Russians fought desperately to stem the 45-day-old Nazi offensive, London heard that delegates of the major United Nations were gathering in Moscow for a "save Russia and win the war" conference on grand strategy for a second Allied front.

British officials maintained silence, but it was reported that representatives of the United States, Great Britain, the fighting French and Norway were either in Moscow or en route.

Moreover, Axis radios for the past week have been circulating "unconfirmed rumors" that Prime Minister Churchill had gone to the Soviet capital, along with William C. Bullitt, special envoy of President Roosevelt.

London quarters said there was little doubt that any such conference would discuss "the urgent task of creating a second front in Europe in 1942," particularly now that Russia's southern armies are in such grave danger.

These quarters also cited repeated warnings from Allied sources recently that Japan, with upwards of half a million troops reported massed along the Russian Siberian frontier, planned to attack Russia soon in the Far East.

On the Soviet fighting front, conflicting versions of the battle came from Moscow and Berlin.

Rash Action by Gandhi and His Followers Might Wreck Allied Cause

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
(Wide World News Service)

As one reads Queen Wilhelmina's unadorned but inspiring address to Congress, with its renewed promise of a free and better world under the Atlantic charter, there comes the feeling that perhaps the course of history would have been changed if Her Majesty could have delivered this speech before the All-India Congress Committee now meeting in Bombay to consider ways and means of enforcing its demands for absolute freedom from Britain.

The Congress committee is struggling with the greatest political problem that any people can face—their independence. There are few measures, no matter how extreme, which world sentiment would deny to any race to achieve its sovereignty, but in the present instance we have a unique situation in which rash action by the committee might jeopardize the whole Allied cause.

A rash move might not only wreck Indian chances of achieving independence but might bring the entire Allied world under the bondage of the Axis. There is no exaggeration, for India is a vital strategic base for our cause.

Under those circumstances Mohandas Gandhi, the great nationalist leader, and the committee might find inspiration for a new line of endeavor in the promises reaffirmed by Holland's beloved Queen. They might find what they seek in the pledge of the Atlantic charter that it respects the right of all peoples to choose the form of government under which they will live. They might recall that only a few days ago Secretary of State Cordell Hull declared:

"We have always believed—and we believe today—that all the peoples, without distinction of race, color, or religion, who are prepared and willing to accept the responsibilities of liberty, are entitled to its enjoyment."

In short, Mr. Gandhi and his followers might reach the conclusion that it would be better to trust the British promise of independence after the war than to precipitate a situation fraught with danger for the entire Allied world.

"But," the Nationalists demand, "why put the whole burden of concession on us? Why shouldn't Britain grant our independence immediately rather than make us wait?"

The answer is that no matter how the British government feels, it is helpless to make the

CITY'S POLICE KEEPING WATCH FOR VICE ALSO

Cleanups Under Way in Nearby Larger Cities May Cause Problem

Upon request of military authorities, some of the larger cities and communities about camps are cleaning up existing vice conditions and ordering women of immoral character out of the camp zones and city areas. Officials here have been asked to keep in touch with conditions, and to do all possible to help break up vice generally.

An influx of those driven from some of the cities and camp areas may result in the smaller cities, it is pointed out, and officials are asked to act promptly to help keep the situation in hand.

City Manager Edwin Ducey has announced that steps are being taken to eradicate vice as much as possible at some of the points where it has been reported in the community.

sweeping change the Nationalists demand without precipitating even a worse situation in India. If Britain suddenly should withdraw entirely from government, and, without thoroughly preparing the ground, turn the rule over to a provisional government, it would create a chaos which would be as bad or worse than anything that can grow out of the Nationalist program of civil disobedience. The 560 native rulers would be at sixes and sevens; the great Moslem minority would defy the efforts of the Congress party to establish a government; and there would be other complications.

Therefore, with all sympathy for any people seeking liberty, and withholding a brief for Britain, we can say that England is powerless to grant the Nationalist demands at this juncture. As a matter of fact, it strikes me that the other Allies might refuse to countenance any such move, on the grounds that it would be tantamount to handing India over to the Axis.

As things now stand, unless some compromise can be effected in the Imbroglio, the future of India is dark and there is a corresponding threat to all the Allied Nations, big and small.

A normal pack of sweet corn in Fayette County is in prospect and the work of canning the crop started Wednesday afternoon when the Fayette Canning Company made its first pack of the season.

The Ladoga Company will start the first of the week, and both plants will be in operation several weeks, handling one of the largest acreages in years.

The quality of the first corn reaching the plant here was good, and while no yields have been reported so far, there was every reason to believe that the yield will at least be a normal one.

METERS BEING TRIED OUT IN VARIOUS CITIES

Circleville and Wilmington Latest Places Where Meters Installed

Parking meters to help solve the traffic problem, are being installed in many of the smaller Ohio cities as well as in the larger cities.

Circleville and Wilmington are the latest towns to install them, and they are being received with varying degrees of satisfaction.

Some of the meters are equipped with one-cent compartments which provide parking for any time from 15 minutes up to one hour, five pennies being required for a full hour of parking.

The above type of meters appear to be the most popular, inasmuch as many persons desire to park only for a few minutes, and the cost would be one cent instead of five.

In Washington C. H. proposals to install meters, made sometime ago, were turned down, but present indications are that, with other cities this size installing the meters, this may be done here within the next year or two—providing results in the other cities are satisfactory.

Officials of various cities are taking the view that the meters not only help solve the parking problem but bring in revenue for the cities where they are installed.

To the Voters of Fayette County

AS A CANDIDATE FOR THE REPUBLICAN NOMINATION FOR REPRESENTATIVE to the General Assembly of Ohio, at the Primary Election to be held Tuesday, August 11th, I earnestly solicit your support.

THIS IS THE FIRST TIME I HAVE EVER SOUGHT A SALARIED PUBLIC OFFICE. I have been a life-long Republican, and have served as Republican Committeeman in Union Township for the past twelve years.

HAVING BEEN ENGAGED IN BUSINESS AND FARMING FOR THIRTY YEARS, except for the time that I served overseas with Ohio's 37th Division during World War I, I trust that you will decide that my experience qualifies me to serve as your Representative in the coming session of the General Assembly, which will be confronted with many problems affecting Agriculture, Business and Labor.

THE NEXT TWO YEARS WILL BE THE MOST CRUCIAL PERIOD IN THE HISTORY OF OUR COUNTRY, and our state government will be called upon to face its most severe test. Therefore, I would deem it an honor and a privilege to be given an opportunity at this time to serve the people of our county.

Sincerely,

VIRGIL PERRILL

HEAVY RAINFALL A FURTHER AID TO CROPS HERE

Heavy Electrical Showers
Occur Over County
During Friday

A series of heavy electrical showers occurred over Fayette County and surrounding area Friday morning, with the result that crops were further greatly benefited by the heavy down-pour.

In some areas total precipitation was placed at an inch or more, and in other parts of the county the rainfall was moderate during the day.

In this city a violent electrical storm struck the city shortly after 9 A. M. and the lightning struck several times within the city limits, but so far as known no serious damage resulted.

At the time of the heavy rainfall occurred here—estimated at around 50 of an inch, a heavy rain was falling in Jeffersonville and community, and also at New Martinsburg, so that precipitation from the one storm seemed to reach most of the county.

Some lightning occurred in the northern and southern areas of the county during the morning storm, but the worst seemed to center in this city and to the south and west.

Coming close after the rains of last week, Friday's showers further insure maturity of the corn crop, soybeans and other growing crops, as well as keep the pastures in good condition, and help replenish the dwindling streams.

Raymond B. Howard, Only Candidate for State Central Committeeman!

The candidate opposing Mr. Howard, in a telegram to the Boards of Election of all the nine counties of the Seventh District, asked that his name be left off the ballots. Except in two counties, unfortunately, the ballots had already been printed.

Those voting the Republican ballot at the August Primary are therefore urged to place an X in front of the name of Raymond B. Howard. Mr. Howard, of Madison County, has the support of all nine Republican organizations of the district. His candidacy was approved by representatives of the nine County Republican Committees at a meeting in Springfield several weeks ago.

SUNKEN SHIPS IN GREAT LAKES TO BE SALVAGED

Metal Needed To Carry on War Effort To Be Fished
From Watery Graves

By DAVID J. WILKIE
(Wide World News Service)

DETROIT, Aug. 7.—The depths and the shoals of the Great Lakes that have claimed thousands of ships and an untold number of lives since LaSalle sailed his famed "Le Griffon" from Niagara to Green Bay and to her doom in 1680 have begun to contribute to the war production effort of 1942.

Searching out precious scrap metal essential to the uninterrupted operation of the nation's steel mills, the special projects salvage section of the War Production Board is giving impetus to salvage operations on all the wrecks that can be raised.

In addition to scrap, it expects to find that a number of craft, once brought to the surface, can be restored to cargo-carrying usefulness.

There may be only a few of these, but none will be overlooked.

"If we can put back into service a freighter that would cost upward of a million dollars to build new, it would be distinctly worth while in the war effort, wouldn't it?" asked Thomas Little, Jr., director of the salvage section.

A few days ago Little and William J. Spicer, his assistant, saw the first of the old ships, victims of wind, explosions or other mishap, brought to the scrap pile here. It was the battered and twisted hull of the oil tanker J. Oswald Boyd which foundered in upper Lake Michigan in 1936 while carrying a cargo of more than 900,000 gallons of gasoline.

Out of the ship, which looked as though its superstructure had been blasted away by gunfire, the Great Lakes Steel Corporation expects to reclaim more than 1,200 tons of metal. Under ceiling prices the scrap metal brings $17 a ton.

The entire shipwreck salvaging project is expected by WPB experts to yield upwards of 30,000 tons of scrap metal within the next two years. Before winter closes the locks and navigation generally, the salvage section expects hope to bring down several craft lost of desolate Keweenaw Point in Lake Superior during the last decade and more.

One of these is the steel-hulled 438-foot City of Bangor which went down November 30, 1926, while carrying a cargo of automobiles. The WPB representatives declined to even guess at the volume of scrap the wreck might yield. Beyond pointing out that it had a carrying capacity of 6,600 tons.

Hundreds of the ships which went down in the Lakes in the days before storm warnings aided navigation never have been located. All those whose locations are known have been listed by the salvage section.

While the section is not greatly interested in old wooden hulls, it is checking on the salvage value of all craft. The boilers and propellers of some of these vessels would yield considerable scrap where the cost of raising them is not too great.

One of the richest cargoes ever to go down in a lake mishap was in the hold of the steamer Pewabic, which had 300 tons of copper and other valuable material aboard when it sank August 9, 1865, following a collision with the steamer Meteor, off Thunder Bay Lake Huron. The crash carried 125 persons to death. Many attempts at salvaging have been made in the more than three quarters of a century since the tragedy, but lying in about 200 feet of water the Pewabic is not easily accessible.

One salvaging operation in 1918 brought up 72 tons of the copper, but the cost of the undertaking was too great to justify it, and the WPB salvage experts aren't thinking seriously now of attempting to recover the cargo.

Among the ships the WPB salvage experts believe may be brought up and reconditioned

FIREMAN COOK THINKS HE HAS ENOUGH MASCOTS!

Engine Co. No. 30 in Forest Hills, New York, had a nice mascot, but now the firemen have too many nice mascots, because Queenie has presented them with 11 additions. Fireman George A. Cook is pictured, above, mulling over the situation while Queenie and her booted offspring look unperturbed.

ARMY STREAMLINED FOR AIR TRANSPORTS

Two Infantry Divisions in Reorganization Process

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Formation of the first two of an undisclosed number of entire divisions of infantry to move to a battle front by air was announced today by Under-secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, along with creation of a new American-Canadian force of super-specialists in offensive warfare.

The 82nd and 101st infantry divisions at Camp Claiborne, La., will be the first of the air-borne units, which will be streamlined down to a strength of about 8,000 men each. All their weapons and equipment will be moved by planes and gliders.

In action, the air-borne divisions will fight as infantry after the manner of similar German army divisions.

SHIP BUILDING PROBED FROM THREE ANGLES

NEW ORLEANS.—(AP)—A congressional sub-committee, investigating cancellation by the Maritime Commission of a contract to build 100 liberty ships at the Higgins shipyards here, prepared to depart for Washington today, but two other government agencies continued their probe into allegations made at the committee hearings.

for service are the steamer Novadoc, a 253-foot pulpwood carrier, and the 360-foot sand boat material service.

The Novadoc went down in Lake Michigan, off Pentwater, Mich., in the storm of Armistice Day 1940 after breaking in two. The material service carried 15 men to death when it sank in a storm off South Chicago July 29, 1936.

The officials of the salvage section make it clear that the WPB neither finances nor supervises actual salvaging operations. It seeks out the wrecks and encourages commercial salvage companies to undertake the operations, brings owners and possible purchasers of the scrap material together and aids in details connected with clearing title to the abandoned vessels.

At the same time the board has requisitioned power under the law, where owners or others interested in the disposition of the hulls might not be disposed to cooperate. In such cases the owner would be paid half the appraised value of the wreck and sue for the remainder.

To date the board hasn't had to use its requisitioning power.

Every Costa Rican citizen is required by law to vote in the presidential elections and in elections for the one-chamber legislature.

"For these are the lasting, truthful things..."

This is an American soldier.

He goes to war not with any fanatical theories of race superiority, of any special "place in the sun," nor any desire to rule the world by fire and by sword. He fights for something greater. For decency—for his loved ones—for his Country, not as some war-like symbol, but as the one great refuge in this world where the humble, the meek, and the righteous may live and work in peace.

This is why he must win. For these are lasting, truthful things. They are not temporary drugs for the mind, but steadfast things of the heart and the soul. And when the flame of fanaticism finally flickers and goes out, the fires of American decency and honor will still burn.

It is this same sense of decency and honor that has bound us all together. We know we cannot all fight. But there is something we can do—and are doing—to help. We can help provide the guns, the planes, the tanks, and the ships to put might behind the right.

By the tens of millions, Americans are saving for Victory in the War Bond Payroll Savings Plan. Every payday we employees, workers and bosses are putting aside 10% of our pay—a dime from every dollar—and every time these savings amount to $18.75, we get a War Bond. And—because this is the free American way—our money is working double. First it goes in a mighty flow for the instruments of Victory, then—ten years later—it comes back to us, four dollars for every three we've put into War Bonds—$25 for every $18.75.

Now look at the picture again. Then imagine that this soldier were your brother, your son, or your sweetheart.

Would ten percent of your pay, in War Bond savings, be too much to help him win—and live?

5 Reasons Why

- ① By investing in War Bonds you help provide the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships we must have to survive and conquer.
- ② You prove that you are a patriotic American.
- ③ You aid the morale of our fighting men, by showing them that the entire Nation is behind them.
- ④ You prove to our enemies that we are a United People.
- ⑤ You protect your own financial future, as every $18.75 you invest in a War Bond brings you back $25 in 10 years. You make the world's safest investment, by buying a share in the world's most powerful country.

Red Birds Beat Brewers Twice To Take AA Lead

-Spying- On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Henry Armstrong's "comeback," as everyone figured, was dictated by lack of dough, but did you know just how broke Henry is? ... Well, the other day he sold a $50,000 annuity on which he paid $19,000, for only $14,600 ... Dick Shikat, the rasser, reports from Chile that there's a terrific boom in the mat racket down there since they imported grunt-and-groan tactics from the United States ... The Manhattan and N.Y.U. track teams, red-hot rivals, had to declare an armistice the other day when Emil Von Elling, N. Y. U. coach, married Dorothy O'Brien and picked Manhattan's Pete Waters as his best man ... Tip from the west coast is California to win the Conference grid title if the season is played out of schedule.

Red Cripples Better with Cubs Coming

CINCINNATI, Aug. 7.—(P)—The Chicago Cubs come to town for a game tonight with the Cincinnati Reds, with Lon Warneke scheduled to pitch for the Cubs and Paul Derringer for the Reds. The Reds' cripple list is improving, with Mike McCormick, who broke his leg some weeks ago, already taking light workouts and Ray Lamanno, slugging young catcher, expecting to have his dislocated thumb in shape soon. McCormick was restored to the active list and hopes to be working again in a few days.

Connie Mack Has Couple of Pitchers Who Would Help Any Club—Look at Their Record Hidden in the Cellar

By STEVE O'LEARY
BOSTON.—(P)—Phip Marchildon's name won't be found anywhere among the American League's leading pitchers but every other major league manager would part with a couple of eye teeth to have the Canadian-born ace of the Philadelphia Athletics on his side. They might do all right at that, for in return for the pair of ivories, they'd be collecting one of the outstanding pitchers in the major leagues, even though he has been tailing in virtual privacy with the tenants of the American circuit cellar. Take Phil and Roger Wolff away from the A's this season and they would be tunneling deep enough in the standings to come up somewhere around the Coastal Plains League. Phil has won 13 games and Roger 10, more than one-half of the 42 games the Athletics have marked down this season on the black ink side of the ledger.

Millers Lose Two to Colonels While Mud Hens Split Double with Millers

(By the Associated Press)
The Columbus Red Birds, last year's champions of the American Association and pre-season favorites to repeat, today led the league for the first time after spending three months gaining enough momentum to put them in the running.

They blasted Milwaukee 8 to 1 and 2 to 1 last night, while Kansas City split with Toledo and Minneapolis lost twice to Louisville.

The four top teams now are jammed into the standings this way:

	W	L	Pct.	G. B.
Columbus	62	52	.544
Kansas City	63	53	.543
Milwaukee	61	6	.521	2 1/2
Minneapolis	60	57	.517	3 1/2

Columbus' Red Munger turned in his 11th triumph of the season by beating the Brewers in the opener. Ted Wilks allowed the Brewers only six hits in the nightcap for his ninth win.

Toledo downed Kansas City 4-3 in the initial tilt, but the Blues worked behind the four-hit job of Lefty Johnny Johnston to win the closing game 1 to 0.

Louisville cooled off Minneapolis 1 to 0 and 7 to 2.

St. Paul was shoved farther into the cellar as Indianapolis racked up 6 to 1 and 3 to 2 victories.

OSU Swimmers Hold Spotlight In AAU Program

By LOU BLACK
NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 7

(P)—Two Hawaiian swimming stars, Keo Nakama and Bill Smith, shared the spotlight today as the National A. A. U. outdoor championships settled down to serious business in the Ocean Beach Park pool.

Nakama, a sophomore at Ohio State University who was a sensation in the indoor campaign, was a top-heavy favorite to win the one-mile race, while Smith, who will enter the Columbus, O., institution next month, was favored in the 220-yard free style feature.

Keo set a fast pace yesterday in leading six qualifiers in the long distance event, covering the mile in 22 minutes, 11.2 seconds. This compares with the 22:58.5 recorded by Danny Green of Texas A. and M., Nakama's closest rival.

Two other titles are to be settled today, the three-meter relay, and the 330-yard medley relay, with new champions certain to be named since neither diver Earl Clark of Ohio State nor the Lake Shore, Chicago, team are here.

Wilkin and Laymon Win First Heat But Third in Second At Xenia Fair

That sensational colt Wilkin and his owner-driver, Harold Laymon, have tasted defeat for the first time in the lives of either of them. But, it decidedly was no disgrace.

Wilkin and Laymon started out together this year in the sport of harness racing. Neither had ever been on a race track until they started their training together early last winter. Neither had ever been in a race until they went to Marion in June. There, they won the stake for two-year-old pacers in straight heats and no one in the crowd was more startled or surprised than the young Washington C. H. horseman.

Their next start was at the Fair here. And, again they won the stake for two-year-olds in straight heats while the crowd howled encouragement.

At Xenia Thursday, they went into their third race. The first heat was just like the others. Laymon, taking no chances on getting pocketed by the older heads in the game, rushed his colt to the front and took the rail. Sizzling down the stretch under pressure from Janice Hanover, driven by veteran Catton, Wilkin paced the last eighth of a mile in 14 seconds and won the heat in the comparatively slow time of 2:15.

That made five straight heats won without a setback.

The second heat was a different story. Wilkin was rushed to the front again and then taken up. Leading throughout the first six furlongs and going easy in the softer footing on the inside, the experienced Catton and McMillen caught the inexperienced Laymon off guard in the stretch. When they pulled out for the drive, they passed the Washington C. H. team before Wilkin could hit his stride. Catton won the heat with Janice Hanover, the filly that nearly ripped Wilkin at the wire in the last heat of their race here last week and McMillen was second with Bonnie Butler.

Th consensus among horsemen after the race was that Wilkin was the best of the field and that it was not surprising that such veteran reinmen and Catton and McMillen caught a driver who was in only his sixth race. But, at the same time they expressed admiration for the skill and quick-thinking and sound judgment shown by Laymon and were inclined to minimize what they called his "first big mistake in trying to wait on such colts as he was up against in this stake when he was in front and had the rail and could have set his own pace." Most of them, too, are of the opinion that Wilkin had both the speed and stamina—citing the finish of the first heat as evidence—to have raced his competition down had he not been taken in hand.

Laymon, himself, had little to say after the race. He did mention the quarter cut he got in the first heat and said that the tape with which it had been bound came loose and flapped around Wilkin's ankles, distracting him and throwing him off stride. That may have been the reason he was not pushed in the second heat when he had what to onlookers seemed to be his opportunity.

May Newman, the filly driven by Milt Carpenter which won the other division of the stake here last week, was sixth and fourth in the race at Xenia. Scores of fans went from here to see these two meet at Xenia but were somewhat disappointed because she was never a factor.

Red Sox Come Up with Second Shutout as Relief Hurler Gets Tough

By JUDSON BAILEY
(By the Associated Press)

With practically no fanfare two of the American League clubs suffering from sleeping sickness as the result of staying too near the contagious cellar zone suddenly have shown unexpected signs of life.

The Chicago White Sox have won half a dozen games in succession in recent days and the Washington Senators have won seven out of nine in the last couple of weeks for what amounts to a sizzling spurt for the Nationals.

Last night the Senators set down the New York Yankees 6-3 in a free-hitting affair in which Washington made 14 blows and the Yanks 11. The blows and the Yanks contributed usually flawless Yankees contributed a couple of errors to Rook- ie Hank Borowy's second defeat of the season.

The White Sox whipped the Detroit Tigers 4-1 with Edgar Smith pitching six hit ball and losing a shutout because Jim Bloodworth belted a home run in the eighth inning.

Evidence that Chicago's hitless wonders are soaring is seen in the fact that Smith, the unlucky southpaw who has lost 17 times, was able to gain his third victory.

In the only other American League game the Boston Red Sox scored their second straight shutout as Bill Butland, ordinarily used for relief chores, pitched four-hit ball to beat the Philadelphia Athletics 2-0.

Cleveland's doubleheader at St. Louis was postponed. Only one game was scheduled in the National League and in this the New York Giants released all the pent-up fury of their last three days to overwhelm the Brooklyn Dodgers 8-0 with five home runs and a steady seven-hit pitching performance by Prince Hal Schumacher.

Mel Ott hit two of New York's circuit blows, bringing his total for the season to 18, and Bill Werber, Mickey Witke and Buster Maynard accounted for the others.

Bosses of League Team Have Hard Time Filling Places of Boys Now in Service—Everyone Is Welcome Now

By ARTHUR BYSTROM
MILWAUKEE.—(P)—Young men who can play football and are in position to do so might find profitable employment this fall by applying to one of the National League professional clubs.

The clubs are scouring the country for new talent to replace about 100 veterans lost to the armed forces.

Several have come up with veterans of lesser leagues, others have signed men from small schools who ordinarily wouldn't have been considered.

Although the season is more than a month away, the Philadelphia Eagle squad already has moved into Wisconsin, the league's chief training ground, and four other National League clubs begin drills within the next few days in Badger cities. They are starting earlier than usual in order to break in new men.

Coach Earle (Greasy) Neal, of Philadelphia had 31 candidates on hand when the first drill was called (Aug. 4) at Two Rivers. Only six were veterans of last year.

Up at Green Bay, where they always have a leading contender, a squad of 11 men is getting in early work before regular practice sessions start Monday. The team has lost 15 members of last year's squad, including the veteran fullback, Clarke Hinkle, and halfback Hal Van Every, but it still has a great passing combination in Cecil Isbell and Don Hutson.

The champion Chicago Bears, who meet the College All-Stars in Chicago August 28, start training at St. John's Military Academy at Delafield Saturday, with only about 18 veterans returning. Missing will be such stars as George McAfee and Norm Standlee, but returning are Clyde (Bulldog) Turner, big center; Sid Luckman, one of the leagues best quarterbacks, and Fullback Bill Osanski.

At Superior, Wis., they are preparing a welcome for a squad of 40-plus New York Giants Thursday. At Waukesha, the Chicago Cardinals will begin training August 10.

Most of the National League veterans who are in the armed services will be on the eastern or western All-Stars who will play National League teams this fall.

GANDHI MAKES APPEAL

TO BRITAIN'S ALLIES TO BACK FREEDOM DEMAND

under Gandhi's generalship unless independence were granted. Only Gandhi can interfere, and unless some unforeseen hitch arises over this week end to change his mind abruptly, the stamp of approval was taken as a certainty.

All Bombay was asking was: when would mass disobedience begin? How widespread would it be? What forms would it take? Boycott? Highway stoppages? The shunning of dealings with foreigners? Even a general strike?

And Gandhi gave the word simply that a general strike was "not outside my contemplation."

His statement was issued last night in the form of written answers to questions from American correspondents.

Before he began a mass movement, he said, he would write to the British viceroy pleading for avoiding conflict and that a basis for negotiations might be found in a favorable response.

He said bluntly that once India were freed he would, with the approval of the United Nations, be prepared to go as an emissary of peace to Japan—a project which he granted might be "the effort and optimism of a visionary."

GRAIN MARKET

NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—(P)—Wheat prices bobbed up and down nervously today within a narrow range, alternating above and below previous closing levels and winding up with little net change.

The market's hesitancy was blamed on lack of outside investment and commercial trade, with the bulk of transactions coming from professional dealers. Willingness of flour and milling trade buyers to make further commitments, the war situation and subnormal hedging operations in connection with the new crop movement because of high government loan rates and scarcity of storage room robbed the market of much of its usual activity. Upward revision of crop estimates in Kansas and Canada induced only modest selling.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1/4c lower compared with yesterday, Sept. 1.17 1/2-3/4, Dec. 1.20 1/2-3/4, Corn 1 1/4-1 1/2 down. Sept. 87 1/4-3/4, Dec. 90 1/4-1/2, oats 1/4c off to 1/4c up; soybeans 1/4c down; rye 1/2-3/4c up.

EQUIPMENT OF CCC TO BE USED BY ARMY

Much of It Left Is New and Identical To That in Use

COLUMBUS, Aug. 6.—(P)—When Civilian Conservation camps were discontinued, the Army fell heir to large quantities of clothing, bedding and other equipment items, the Fifth Service Command reported today.

Much of the material, said the Fort Hayes quartermaster's office, is new and identical to that already in use by the army.

General quartermaster supplies from the CCC camps in the Fifth Service Command—comprised of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia—are being stored in Middletown warehouses.

GERMAN CANNON IS TO REMAIN FOR PRESENT

Legionnaires Will Turn Over War Relic Later If It Is Required

Spokesmen for the American Legion here indicated Friday that they were not in favor, at the present time, of giving up the German cannon, World War I trophy, which stands on the Courthouse lawn here, until convinced that there is real need of such relics to help win the war.

One Legionnaire stated flatly, when shown the statement of Robert O. Weible, secretary of the State Salvage committee, that Ohio's war relics must be turned into steel for fighting equipment, that with so much iron and steel still untouched by the salvage organization, the cannon here would remain where it is until actual need of it is shown.

He took the stand that there is a tremendous amount of surplus iron and steel available for war purposes if it is gone after, and at the same time made it clear that the Legion would gladly turn over the cannon if and when it is needed.

Weible in a statement issued Friday said that cannons, cannon balls, wrought iron fences, etc., would be "specifically requested" for the first time to help Ohio meet its 2,175,000 ton scrap iron and steel quota in the next six months.

Said The President President Roosevelt gave a boost today to the war production board's campaign to collect scrap for the war effort and said he thought it would be a good idea to gather in some of the old cannon and bronze statues from parks throughout the country.

The Chief Executive said Donald M. Nelson, WPB chairman, wanted him to mention the scrap campaign at a press conference and had submitted a memorandum which spoke of needing steel badly. While scrap collections are keeping ahead of blast furnaces now, the President said, 17,000,000 tons are wanted to insure steel production in 1943.

Steel is wanted, Mr. Roosevelt said, from abandoned buildings, railroads, in the form of old farm machinery, and as miscellaneous scrap lying around homes. He said he felt certain there still was a lot lying around the country.

Smilingly, in response to a question about gathering up cannons and bronze statues which may now adorn many parks, the President said he thought a great many probably would look better if the statues were converted into weapons and replaced after the war with something more artistic.

He only laughed when asked whether he had any specific statuary in mind.

When a reporter remarked that there were a lot of "elegant brass doorknobs and mail boxes" around Washington, Mr. Roosevelt countered by offering his questioner the chairmanship of a committee to gather them.

GRASS FIRE OCCURS THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Another grass fire occurred within the city limits Thursday afternoon, necessitating a run by the fire department.

The Thursday afternoon fire was in grass on vacant lots at Washington Avenue and Elm Streets, and firemen used wet brooms in halting its advance after it had burned over a considerable area.

UNION F. B. COUNCIL FAVORS REFINERY

Township Budget Explained And Discussed

The July meeting of the Union Township Farm Bureau Council was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Engle, on the Snowhill Road, with a good representation in attendance.

Mrs. Warren Huchison was in charge of the brief business session, and then turned the meeting over to W. R. Moats, discussion leader.

Moats gave a talk on the township budget, explaining it and inviting any inspection of the records. He also explained tangible and intangible property question to the council members.

The council went on record in favor of the Farm Bureau owning its own petroleum refinery. A discussion preceded this action.

Plans were made for the September meeting, to be held with Mrs. Judith S. Robinson. Mrs. W. R. Moats will be the chairman and Walter Engle, discussion leader. It was suggested that each family bring an interesting question for the meeting.

William Haines of the Farm Bureau attended the meeting and complimented the members on their work.

After adjournment, the host and hostess served very tempting refreshments, assisted by Marilyn Hays and Ruth Engle.

EXCURSION STEAMER RAMS TOLEDO DOCK

TOLEDO, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The excursion steamer Theodore Roosevelt rammed its Maumee River dock in downtown Toledo last night, causing damage so extensive that the 630 passengers were marooned aboard ship nearly four and a half hours.

After a moonlight excursion in Maumee Bay, the three-deck steamer was ready to dock when it suddenly lurched forward. The prow rammed through the steel-and-wood dock and ploughed up nearly 20 feet of shore earth.

"Engine room signals must have been mixed up," the officer said. An investigation is under way.

CIVIL SERVICE JOBS AVAILABLE HERE

Secretary H. C. Allen Has Complete Information

With employment on the increase here—as it is all over the country — opportunity continues to knock, often with better and more permanent offers.

Civil Service ranks are being expended rapidly as evidenced by an announcement by Howard C. Allen, secretary of the Federal Commission here. Here is his announcement.

"The U. S. Civil Service Commission announced examinations for service at U. S. Veterans' Facility at Chillicothe for positions as follows: Hospital attendant, mess attendant, maid, waitress, waiter, kitchen helper, etc., at salaries $1020 to $1260 per year. Opportunities for advancement through merit.

"For Quartermaster Depot at Jeffersonville, Ind., positions are opened for inspectors at $2,000 per year in the following branches: Hardware, leather, wood products, chinaware and glassware, table and kitchen utensils, stoves and ranges, tents, sheet metal and products, bakery and cafeteria equipment, findings. Complete information as to the requirements as well as application blanks to be filed may be had from the secretary at the Post Office here."

and the world situation, Cannon said: "In spite of the labor shortage and long working hours, farmers are raising the biggest and richest crops ever harvested—the Department of Agriculture said we are raising 40 percent more food this year for the Allies than in 1918. Farmers are generally playing a magnificent, if unglamorous part in this war."

Of the war, stated Cannon, "it looks very serious . . . it will probably be a long pull of two years or more . . . I think our leaders have an awful job on their hands, but are doing it remarkably well . . . I'm behind them 100 percent."

RECEIPTS $10,800 UNDER LAST YEAR

Sales Tax for Year Reaches $59,032 in County

For the period from January 1 to July 27, total receipts from sales tax in Fayette County reached $59,032.44 compared with $69,854.67, or more than $10,000 more than this year's receipts up to July 25.

For the week ending July 25 to July 25, receipts were $1,514.34 and for the same period last year $2,113.89.

Automotive sales being so small are chiefly responsible for the drop, other sales apparently being on a par or greater than for last year.

tent and the animals in it, and was trapped into making a number of statements which did not hang together. Pittsburgh police also were convinced the youth had made a false confession, Story reported.

Circus officials, however, said their records showed Ford was hired in Pittsburgh, and discharged from "The Greatest Show on Earth" shortly before the flames broke loose. He was paid off shortly after the fire.

Pennsylvania Railroad police arrested Ford in Duquesne, near Pittsburgh. He was taken into custody when a circus meal ticket was found in his possession.

Adams said Ford related that he and a 29-year-old Pittsburgh companion named Jess, whom police are seeking, started the fire "to get even with the circus."

"We puffed on the cigarettes until they got a good light," Adams quoted the boy. "The other fellow shot his cigarette into the straw. I hesitated but he persuaded me to do the same and threatened me with a knife if I didn't . . . I felt pretty sorry when I saw all those dead animals lying around."

The circus moved from here to Akron, where it performs today.

HITLER'S DRIVE FOR OIL WITH TANK ASSAULTS IS SLOWED BY REDS

Russia's oil, and would represent a 50-mile advance from Kropotkin, the southernmost point claimed by the Germans previously in their drive down the Rostov-Baku railway.

By contrast with the Nazi claims, a mid-day bulletin from Red army headquarters gave this picture of the 350-mile waterfront:

Kotelnikovsk sector, 95 miles south of Stalingrad—"The Germans are sending in large numbers of tanks in attempts to smash our defenses. Our troops have repulsed these attacks."

Kushchevka sector, 50 miles south of Rostov—"The Germans launched repeated attacks against our positions, but were repulsed with heavy losses."

Kletskeya sector, 80 miles northwest of Stalingrad—"Our troops launched a number of counterattacks and pressed the enemy back, destroying nine German tanks and killing about 800 enemy officers and men."

The lone setback conceded by the Russians was in the Belaya Glna sector, 100 miles southeast of Rostov, where Red army troops withdrew at several points yesterday. Soviet dispatches still insist-

An Open Letter To Republican Voters Of Fayette County

Capt. John F. Otis

Dear Friend: There are certain things you have the right to demand in the man who will represent Fayette County in the 1943 Legislature of Ohio. They are honesty and character. These traits are necessary, but also there must be an ableness to do the job well and to successfully represent your best interests.

In order to do this, such a man must have the necessary qualifications, experience, and knowledge; an ability to work with other legislators and converse intelligently and on equal terms with them; to possess a background of experience and training that will permit this; a leadership that is unhandicapped by any strings or commitments; the ability and necessary energy to fight for the best interests of the people of Ohio, as well as those of Fayette County; to instigate remedial legislation.

He must be able to make intelligent suggestions and continue through with them; to maintain a constant interest in state and county affairs; to keep informed and abreast of trends and conditions; to anticipate needs and lay foundations for furthering them; to fight for the interests of the men and women that work; to be constantly alert to see that they get their just deserts.

You must put into the Legislature the man you feel will best accomplish these things. If you don't nominate the right man, you can't elect him in the fall.

PRIMARY DAY IS TUESDAY, AUGUST 11th, 1942. Very sincerely yours,

JOHN F. OTIS, Captain, Air Corps.

Candidate for the Republican Nomination as Representative to the Ohio General Assembly from Fayette County. (Pol. Adv.)
